Name	Sumaya Laher
Title	Prof
Place of Work	University of the Witwatersrand, Johannesburg, South Africa
Statement/bio informing EACCME of your experience of delivering educational material	SUMAYA LAHER received her PhD in Personality Psychology from the University of the Witwatersrand, Johannesburg, South Africa. She is currently the Head of Department of Psychology at the School of Human and Community Development. She teaches undergraduate and postgraduate courses in research design, psychometrics, psychological assessment and statistics. Her areas of research interest include the utility of psychological assessment in multicultural populations and cultural conceptions of mental illness. Prof Laher’s research is guided by the need for indigenous knowledge production and the integration of this knowledge with mainstream approaches to have a more universally applicable science. Her research has contributed to creating a more critical practice of psychology and psychotherapy that is cognisant of indigenous beliefs and practices. Prof Laher serves as the Editor of the African Journal of Psychological Assessment and Associate Editor at the South African Journal of Psychology and Personality Science. She serves on the editorial board of the International Journal of Testing and Personality and Social Psychology Review amongst others. Prof Laher plays an active role in Professional Psychology and has represented South Africa at the International Union of Psychological Science as well as the International Test Commission. She has recently completed a term as the President of the Psychological Society of South Africa.
